A little bit of history

Throughout the 18th and 19th centuries, the banks of the river Ouse were lined with warehouses, iron foundries, gasworks, timber yards, and even shipbuilding yards. At this time, the site of the John Harvey Tavern was occupied by the stables required to meet the coaching needs of the nearby Bear Hotel, which was sadly destroyed by fire in 1918.

But not far away a new business had already been established. The Cliffe Tavern stood at the end of Bear Lane on the opposite corner to the Bear Hotel, and it was at the rear of these premises that John Harvey started brewing the beer that would mark Lewes in the 20th century as the 'home of Harvey's'.

As Harvey's brewing business grew, the company moved to the present Bridge Wharf Brewery on the opposite side of Cliffe High Street, and during the 1980s, the old stables were renovated and opened as a restaurant called The Weighed Inn.

A disastrous fire in 1996 caused much damage to Harvey's premises and the old Bear Lane stables once again saw a change of use as office staff moved in to very welcome temporary accommodation.

In 1998, with Harvey's Bridge Wharf premises fully repaired, the Bear Lane site was re-opened as the John Harvey Tavern. The 'JHT' has established itself as the Harvey's Brewery Tap, serving beer fresh from the Brewery, with the biggest selections of Harvey's beers to be found in Sussex.
